Target Market Determination

Introduction

This Target Market Determination (TMD) is required under section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act). This TMD describes the class of investors that comprises the target market for the financial product and matters relevant to the product's distribution and review (specifically, distribution conditions, review triggers and periods, and reporting requirements). Distributors must take reasonable steps that will, or are reasonably likely to, result in distribution of the product being consistent with the most recent TMD (unless the distribution is excluded conduct).

This document is not a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) and is not a complete summary of the product features or terms of the product. This document does not take into account any person's individual objectives, financial situation or needs. Persons interested in acquiring this product should carefully read the PDS for the product before making a decision whether to buy this product.

Important terms used in this TMD are defined in the TMD Definitions available at ioof.com.au/tmd. Capitalised terms have the meaning given to them in the product's PDS, unless otherwise defined. The PDS can be obtained by visiting our website at ioof.com.au/forms or by contacting Investor Services on 1800 002 217.

Target Market Summary

Description of Target Market

Table Instructions

In the table below:

- Column 1, Investor Attributes, indicates a description of the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of investors that are considering this product.

- Column 2, TMD indicator, indicates whether an investor meeting the attribute in column 1 is likely to be in the target market for this product.
- Column 3, Product description including key attributes, outlines features of the product which are likely to be suitable for consumers with the attributes identified with a green TMD Indicator in Column 2.

TMD indicator key

The investor attributes for which the product is likely to be appropriate have been assessed using a green and red rating methodology:

Investor attribute definitions

Investors should refer to the 'TMD definitions' available at ioof.com.au/tmd for the definitions of the investor attributes (that is, the terms used in the 'Investor attributes' column in the table below).

Appropriateness

The Issuer has assessed the product and formed the view that the product, including its key attributes, is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of investors in the target market as described below. The attributes of the product in the 'Product description including key attributes' column of the table below are consistent with the corresponding investor attributes identified with a green rating in the 'TMD indicator' column.

Investment products and diversification

An investor (or class of investor) may intend to hold a product as part of a diversified portfolio (for example, with an intended product use of minor allocation). In such circumstances, the product should be assessed against the investor's attributes for the relevant portion of the portfolio, rather than the investor's portfolio as a whole. For example, an investor may seek to construct a balanced or moderate diversified portfolio with a minor allocation to growth assets. In this case, a product with a high risk/return profile may be consistent with the investor's objectives for that minor allocation notwithstanding that the risk/return profile of the investor as a whole is medium. In making this assessment, distributors should consider all features of a product (including its key attributes). Please note that an 'Investor's intended product use', which sets out the percentage of Investable Assets, is defined as based on all of the assets that the investor has available for investment (excluding the residential home). It is not intended to be limited to only, for example, the relevant portion of assets the investor is currently intending to invest.

Investor Attributes	TMD indicator	Product description including key attributes

Distribution conditions/restrictions

Channel	Distribution conditions	Distribution condition rationale
Direct (non-advised)	By application to us, provided the amount to be invested (and maintained) is at least $25,000. We may accept lower amounts at our discretion. The investor will acquire the product directly via the Issuer's website, ioof.com.au, by completing the Application Form in accordance with the PDS. The investor completing the Application Form will be asked a series of questions to assist the Issuer in understanding whether the investor is within the target market.	It has been determined that the distribution conditions and restrictions will make it likely that investors who acquire the product are in the class of investors for which it has been designed. We consider that the distribution conditions are appropriate and will assist distribution in being directed towards the target market for whom the product has been designed.
Advisers	This product may be distributed to investors by a Licensee or its Authorised Representative (as defined in the Act) (known as a financial adviser) who provides personal advice. The Application Form includes a series of questions to assist the Issuer in understanding whether the investor is within the target market. Financial advisers have their own legal obligations that must be satisfied in the provision of personal advice.	The Issuer considers the distribution condition will make it likely that investors who acquire the product will be in target market for the product, or the product will otherwise be appropriate for them because the financial adviser providing personal advice must: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> take into account the investor's personal objectives, financial situation and needs, and comply with the best interests duty and related obligations under Pt 7.7A of the Act.

Channel	Distribution conditions	Distribution condition rationale
Platform providers	This product is available to persons investing through investment or super platforms, wrap products, IDPS, IDPS-like schemes, a nominee or custody service or any other trading platform (platform) as authorised by the Responsible Entity.	The Issuer considers the distribution condition will make it more likely that the consumers who acquire the product are in the target market because the platform provider has an arrangement with the Issuer governing their relationship with the Issuer noting that platform providers, as distributors, are required to take reasonable steps that will, or are likely to, result in distribution of the product being consistent with the TMD. The Issuer seeks confirmation twice a year from platform providers confirming that they have taken reasonable steps to ensure distribution is consistent with the TMD. In addition, the Issuer of each platform product has its own obligations as a distributor to take reasonable steps that will or are reasonably likely to result in retail product distribution conduct being consistent with the TMD. Reasonable steps includes undertaking due diligence of platform providers, methods of distribution and controls.

Review triggers

The parameters for each review trigger listed below are set by the Issuer and may vary from time to time. The Product is assessed against these parameters on a quarterly basis. Please note, in some instances, examples have been provided below. These examples are indicative only and not exhaustive.
