

Announcement to unitholders - Unitholder Meetings and Annual Financial Reports

Receiving information regarding Unitholder Meetings

If important changes are required to managed investment schemes ('funds') for which MLC Investments Limited, Antares Capital Partners Ltd or Navigator Australia Limited act as responsible entity, unitholder meetings may be held. These meetings may be held in person, or as a combination of in person and online. Unitholders of any fund for which a unitholder meeting is called will receive prior notification and be provided with any reference materials.

As a unitholder, you can choose to receive information about a particular unitholder meeting or any future unitholder meetings, if and when they are called, either as a printed copy by post or by email. If you don't make a choice, we will default to your contact preference for receipt of financial statements. For example, if you've chosen to receive your financial statements via email, we will send you any unitholder meeting related communications via email unless you tell us you prefer to receive this information in a different way.

Receiving Annual Financial Reports

As a unitholder, you can choose to receive a particular annual financial report, or any future annual financial reports, either as a printed copy by post, by email or not at all. If you don't make a choice, we will default to your contact preference for receipt of financial statements. For example, if you've chosen to receive your financial statements via email, we will send you annual financial reports via email unless you tell us you prefer to receive this information in a different way.

The annual financial report for a fund is generally made available to unitholders by 30 September, each year according to your previously indicated contact preference.

To change your preference

To update your preferred method to receive the annual financial report or to indicate your preference for how you receive information about unitholder meetings, please call or email us using the contact details below.
